Cornell’s Eleventh Inauguration Set for October 16

Staff have many opportunities to be involved

The Cornell-Unfinished Agenda:

Cornell’s Eleventh Inauguration will mark the beginning of the academic year as students and staff participate in the inauguration ceremony, which will feature the installation of the university’s eleventh president. The event will kick off the academic year for students and businesses, and will highlight the accomplishments of the university’s eleventh president, who has served in the capacity for the past 15 years.

Inauguration-related events will begin on the afternoon of October 16, with the arrival of the presidential family and guests. The event will take place throughout the day of October 16, with highlights including:

12:00 p.m.–1:15 p.m.

First Inaugural Procesion

Art Quad

The Marching Band and student organizations will lead the processional, followed by the faculty and student representatives of the university’s academic colleges. The procession will make its way up Central Avenue, which will be closed for short periods of time for the procession.

Inaugural Addresses

1:30 p.m.

Ezra and Andy Excellent Big Red Adventure

A special Cornell Chimes concert will feature the university’s official marching band, followed by the official song of the university, “The New Architecture of Cornell.”

10:00 a.m.–11:00 a.m.

Lectures

The Distinguished Inaugural Guest

Richard Meier ’56, a world-renowned architect and the university’s eleventh president, will deliver his formal inaugural address, and staff will have an opportunity to take part in an event—the inauguration of Cornell’s eleventh president. More than 300 have already volunteered to assist with the procession or usher during the ceremony, while others have made plans to watch the procession, and the university community is encouraged to participate in this monumental event, explains Patricia Mahoney, vice-chair for finance and secretary, who leads the inauguration.

“...I am pleased to be able to share in this monumental event, explains Patricia Mahoney. “It’s an excellent opportunity for the university community to be represented as part of the Cornell community...”

Events will take place throughout the day of October 16. Highlights include:

10:00 a.m.–11:00 a.m.

Save the Date--Benefit

The State contract college health plans Option Transfer Period began when the State of New York released the new health rates and ends 30 days after the release date.

Reduce Your Risk of coming Down With The Flu this Winter

Just because you add whole grains to your diet doesn’t mean you won’t get sick. A healthy diet can help you prevent some illnesses, but it cannot prevent you from getting the flu. The easiest way to avoid the flu is to get vaccinated. You can get vaccinated at a local fire department. Confirmed dates are available on campus; check the Olivia site to find out where and when. No appointment is necessary.

If you are missing an outreach clinic, stop by Cook Hall on Tuesday before 9:30–11:30 a.m. or 1:30–5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

cost: Average $1–Emergency Grant Fund
